

Are there special places in your community that face an uncertain future?

They may belong on the

Rhode Island
Preservation
Watch!

The Rhode Island Preservation Watch

An on-going online discussion and call to action

Historic structures and unique places at risk

Opportunities to fund or advocate

Policy issues that impact preservation

...where people can make a difference to preserve Rhode Island.

The Rhode Island Preservation Watch harnesses the power of concerned people to protect places that matter in their communities. Through the Rhode Island Preservation Watch, we send out calls for action that will make a difference in protecting historic buildings and neighborhoods, archaeological sites, and open spaces that comprise the distinctive character of Rhode Island cities, towns and villages.

Alert the Rhode Island Preservation Watch if you know of heritage at risk. Share in the online discussion. Connect with other preservationists to confront urgent challenges, foster community engagement, build capacity and grow constituencies to preserve Rhode Island.

Go to the Preserve Rhode Island website at www.preserveri.org or visit us on Facebook to find out more about the Rhode Island Preservation Watch, including what you can do now to protect our heritage for the future.

Find updates and discussions on Facebook!